Last night and for the dedication of the lighting system, O. E. Hill, superintendent of Galion schools, C. E. Other speakers were Robert Corry, Galion High school coach, who represented the high school athletic association and boys and girls of Galion, and Ray Lilly, commissioner in charge of the district softball tournament.

With 12 runs off eight hits, the Galion National Varsity triumphed over the Shelburn team in the first game. The winning battery was B. Goldenkith and Guy Lowe, while the Shelburn team had Ferris on the mound and Fritsch behind the bat. Galion committed four fielding errors but the two-hit pitching of Goldenkith kept the opposition under control.

Mansfield's entry played errorless ball to chase in 11 runs off nine hits in the victory over the Galion Elks by a 11 to 2 margin. The Mansfield battery was Treichel and Musille, while the battery of the Elks team was Brown, Fred and Thibault. Umpires for the games were Rice and Bushberry, both of Marion.

JAPS BOLSTER SHANGHAI ARMY

12 Destroyers and Three Cruisers Anchor at Port and Land Marines.

By The Associated Press. SHANGHAI, Aug. 11.—Japan's Shantung fleet, consisting of 12 destroyers and three cruisers, anchored at the mouth of the Yangtze and poured between 500 and 1,000 bluejackets into this city in the newest Sino-Japanese war crisis tonight.

Two aircraft carriers, said unconfirmed reports, were waiting beyond the Wusung forts, which lie at the confluence of the Yangtze and Yangtze.

Japanese naval authorities said events that were brought to a head by the Japanese naval commander and his driver "mean that Japan's navy effectiveness in China must be increased."

Advanced elements of Japan's first fleet, 12 destroyers and three light cruisers, led the way to Shanghai from Nippon, across the China sea.

Those were the total of today's arrivals, said the Japanese, but foreign port authorities tallied 20 Japanese warships, 15 destroyers, five light cruisers, and one battleship along the Shanghai waterfront.

The resulting increased tension in central China was matched by a reported major battle between Chinese and Japanese troops at Nankow pass, 30 miles northwest of Peking.

Unconfirmed Chinese reports were that the Japanese army was being defeated because said the Chinese city of Nankow, one of the area where forces of the two nations have been musing for two weeks, was in flames.

Arrival of the Japanese warships at Shanghai, coupled with evacuation of Japanese civilians along the Yangtze river, indicated Nippon was prepared for a large-scale undeclared war in the rich central China commercial area.

Tokyo considered the staying of the two Japanese as having gravely endangered the slender chances for peace between the two oriental nations. Chinese contended the Japanese were at fault in the clash.

Claim Franco Has To Use Artillery To Quell Revolting Forces.

By The Associated Press. MADRID, Aug. 11.—Spanish government sources reported today Gen. Francisco Franco's artillery had shelled his own city of Segovia to put down a revolt in the insurgent ranks. The rebellion was said to be spreading through provinces after provinces.

Government observation posts reported a battle in the city 43 miles northwest of Madrid. The struggle of machine gun and rifle fire within Segovia, the observers reported, could be heard plainly from the nearby government lines.

Insurgent artillery batteries were said to have opened fire on their own stronghold from Guila Pecos. Reports from far to the south, in the neighborhood of the city of Granada and that Franco's troops, rebelling against his regime, had used rifles and machine guns in the attack on the city.

Then, these reports said, the revolting insurgents attacked the positions held by their former comrades in the vicinity. The fighting was said to have reached its height about noon yesterday. Observers declared that a squadron of insurgent warplanes had hovered low over Granada but had not bombed the city.

BUMPER APPLE AND GRAPE CROPS SEEN

Way in Excess of Last Year; Declines Noted in Sugar Beets and Cherries.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The agriculture department said today that Ohio's apple harvest would exceed last year's by more than 2,000,000 bushels and promise a bumper grape crop but noted declines in the state's sugar beet and cherry crops.

The anticipated apple yield for Ohio is 11,752,000 bushels, compared with 9,550,000 last year and the five-year average of 9,570,000. The department indicated a national production of 202,274,000 bushels, compared with 177,000,000 in 1936 and the average from Jan. 1, 1924 to Dec. 31, 1932 of 11,245,000 bushels.

Apple crop conditions improved noticeably during July, the department said, except for the Pacific northwest and the Rocky Mountain regions.

On the other hand, the federal crop reporting board said that although the prospect for sugar beets improved slightly between July 1 and Aug. 1, Ohio was the only important producing state in which prospects decreased materially.

Ohio's indicated production for beets is 218,000 short tons, exactly equal to the 1932-33 average but under last year's 232,000 short tons.

nomination to former Mayor Walter H. Scheu; Mayor J. O. Snusker of Bellefontaine who lost to John Hughes in the Republican primary; and Mayor W. Art Mason of Ashland who lost the non-partisan municipal nomination to Newton Mansfield.

Candidates Backed by CIO Victorious

By The Associated Press. AKRON, O., Aug. 11.—Candidates backed by John L. Lewis' CIO "industrial union" were victorious today in the Democratic primary elections at both Akron and Canton.

In the November election, they will face the Republican incumbents—Lee D. Schroy of Akron and James B. Secombe of Canton. Both were renominated yesterday without opposition.

Municipal Judge G. I. Patterson, a former national labor union leader, backed the CIO candidates, who had backing of both CIO and AFL organizations, won the Akron Democratic primary from Henry B. Blyler, county commissioner.

Patterson, endorsed by the unions through "Labor's Non-Partisan League," received 17,635 votes to 4,400 for Blyler. The Democratic party organization professed neutrality in the contest.

At Canton, the youthful labor leader Dorel D. Smith won over a field of six candidates on the Democratic ticket. The CIO backed Smith polled 2,021 votes. His nearest opponents were Walter J. Weber, 2,018; William C. Jacobs, 1,478; and Paul D. Lyon, 1,111.

The year-old Summit county "non-partisan league" also endorsed 12 candidates for city council on the Democratic ticket, of which 11 won. The unions made no Republican endorsements, nor were any made in the Akron municipal judgment race.

Mayors Scheu and Secombe frequently have been verbal targets of the CIO during recent strike difficulties. The CIO United Rubber Workers' union today accused members in Akron and the Lewis unions claim a large membership among Canton steel workers.

U. S. CROP OUTLOOK BETTER THAN IN 1936

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Agriculture department estimates predicted today "an adequate supply of food feed forage and fiber" this year from the national farms.

They based this forecast on official estimates yesterday by the federal crop reporting board.

The board said Aug. 1 conditions indicated crops yields nearly 11 per cent above average, but added these could scarcely be called excessive because of population gains, better demand and short supplies resulting from recent drought years.

Except for the northwest interior, the experts said, weather in recent weeks has been excellent for grain, cotton, potatoes, beans, rice, sugar beets, most fruits and various other crops.

One Marion person is listed among the 34 entries in the national summer Roque tournament which got underway today at Lakeside, O., according to an Associated Press report. The Marion entry is E. L. Parish according to the dispatch.

MARION DRIVER IN JAIL AT LARUE

A. L. Manley Arrested on Drunken Driving Charge.

A. L. Manley, 32, of 254 Patterson street was arrested early today on a drunken driving charge following an accident on Route 27, about one-half mile north of Larue by highway patrolmen from the Marion substation.

Manley, patrolmen reported, was driving north and his car struck a small concrete culvert. The accident occurred shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. Manley suffered several broken ribs and lacerations on his hands and face, patrolmen reported.

He was treated in the office of a Larue physician and then imprisoned in the city jail at Larue. He was to be arraigned later today before Justice of Peace Charles Rice. Damage to Manley's car was estimated at about $30.

72 MORE EXECUTED IN SIBERIAN PURGE

Brings Total of Victims to 320 in Campaign Against Spies and Wreckers.

By The Associated Press. MOSCOW, Aug. 11.—The execution of 72 alleged for eastern railroad wreckers accused of conspiring with the Japanese secret service was reported today by the "Pravda" newspaper.

The executions followed others in series, but the group was one of the largest to be executed. Now the total of known executions in this far eastern campaign to root out spies and wreckers is 320.

The "Pravda" band was described as a group of Trotskyist, rightists and saboteurs who worked along the Siberian railway to the benefit of the Japanese intelligence service, thus weakening Soviet transportation in the case of war with Japan.

They were charged with causing our wreck in which 11 persons were killed and many injured. The victims were workers and their families, enroute to settle the new town of Komsomol.

ROOSEVELT ABSENT FROM LOVE FEAST

Pays Tribute by Message to Honor Guest Barkley, Majority Leader.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Pledges of party harmony echoed among Senate Democrats today, but the voice of President Roosevelt was missing from the chorus.

The President, because of "pressure of other things," did not attend the "harmony" dinner held last night by the Democratic senators, recently split over legislative issues.

He paid tribute to the honor guest—Sen. Stanley of Kentucky, new majority leader—in a note, which said in part:

"It has two great gifts for which we are truly grateful—a sense of perspective and a sense of humor which enables him to distinguish between the ridiculous and the serious."

Publicly there was no comment on the President's failure to attend or to make a general appeal for party harmony in his message. Some of those who fought his court bill, however, speculated privately about its possible significance.

Among those present was Sen. Copeland of New York, who on Monday accused the President of destroying party harmony and of seeking reprisals against those who fought his court program.

There was no mention of these mundane things at the dinner, held amid music and champagne. A "dove of peace," fluttered about the banquet hall. Spun sugar doves nested on the ice cream, and the piece de resistance was squash.

Ohio due to continued rains. The present outlook is for 11,937,000 bushels compared with 11,010,000 in 1936.

Sugar beets—The heavy rains of June and July were detrimental to many of the sugar beet acres. Production is forecast at 235,000 tons against 255,000 tons last season.

Buckwheat—Due to rains, much buckwheat could not be planted until quite late and by Aug. 1 had not made much progress. Present indications point to a crop of 350,000 bushels compared with 320,000 in 1936.

Soybeans—No forecast upon the production of soybeans for grain or hay is made until later in the season.

Fruits—The Aug. 1 forecast for fruits with 1936 production in parentheses, is as follows: Apples 11,752,000 bushels (9,550,000); peaches 1,361,000 bushels (1,640,000); pears 550,000 bushels (584,000); grapes 37,000 tons (26,400); and cherries 7,340 tons (1,350).

BOY BICYCLE RIDER HURT IN ACCIDENT

Rob Roy Reidenbaugh's Head Cut in Collision With Truck at State-Church Streets.

Rob Roy Reidenbaugh, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reidenbaugh of Clinton pike, suffered a head laceration which required 12 stitches to close, in a truck-bicycle accident at the intersection of State and Church streets this morning about 9 o'clock, according to a police report.

He was riding a bicycle west on Church street and struck the rear of a truck. The truck, which police were told was standing still, was operated by L. M. Carey, 20, of Agawa. Carey had approached the intersection from the west and was making a left turn to State street.

Carey told police that the boy had passed a coal truck which was traveling the same direction he was riding. As the boy reached the middle of the intersection the bicycle struck the right rear fender of the truck. The impact apparently threw the boy head first into the fender.

The bicycle was not badly damaged but the fender was crumpled. Carey and a passenger, William Smith, of 231 Franklin street, took the boy to the Frederick C. Smith clinic. He was removed to his home after receiving treatment.

Average Income $1,265 a Year in New Philadelphia

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A long-standard survey of New Philadelphia, O., by the agriculture department disclosed today the average family income in 1935-36 was less than $1,300 to cover living expenses of almost four persons.

In Mount Vernon, O., the department reported, the average was $1,327. The average of all families studied there represented a cross section of the city's 34 persons.

The survey of New Philadelphia by the home economics bureau showed an average family income of $1,265; an average family of 37 persons; the chief earner of 31 per cent of the families engaged in agriculture; 30 per cent of all families in the city were professional; an almost equal division of home-owning and renting families; and an average rent of $16 a month paid by the renting families.

In Mount Vernon, the survey was based on 51 per cent of the families were in the wage earning category; 18 per cent in business and professional occupations; 14 per cent were home owners and 16 per cent the latter paying an average of $16 a month.

The department reported 19 per cent of the Mount Vernon families and 22 per cent of those in New Philadelphia had received some federal aid during the 12 months studied and were listed as relief families.

Of the non-relied families, 60 per cent in Mount Vernon and 63 per cent in New Philadelphia received less than $1,500 a year.

The department said its report was based on first tabulations of a survey of 19 small cities, described as "part of the first comprehensive nationwide survey of how much income the American family makes and how it is spent."

Teacher Claims That She Called Evolution a Joke

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 11.—In a non-partisan country school charged school trustees today with calling evolution a "joke."

Next Year.

Announcement by a treasury spokesman that extensive tax revision will be recommended to the next session of congress hints at what now is beginning to emerge as the administration's plan to put on a major legislative drive in 1938.

That will be an election year. If present trends continue, the division of Democrats as between the right and left will be sharper. Politically, the administration will be able to give more aid to its supporters and do more harm to members of the opposition than in the current off-year.

New deal organization, as distinguished from Democratic organization, will be more compact. Mr. Roosevelt's position, taken during the present session of congress, will be plain, though it may be no stronger. There will have been time for attitudes to settle, perhaps with the effect of bringing about that separation into liberal and conservative schools of thought so confidently recommended by some Americans as the proper solution of the political problem.

There would be, in that event, the "government" and the "opposition" as there is in England and as there has been in the United States, except that here the opposition somehow cropped out in discouraging force within the government itself.

With this prospect in view, the first session of the 75th congress will struggle toward adjournment Aug. 21 more certain than ever that it was the victim of realignment in the country's party system.

Walk Softly.

At least 1,200 years before the birth of Christ there was a city where Peking now stands. Through the centuries it has endured, the prize of many dynasties, some times in the hands of barbarians, some times sacked, sometimes rebuilt, but always a great city.

Of all the cities of China it is most renowned. Politicians and scholars have mingled there for ages. As much as any place on earth, Peking is a place of a great tradition. From the Chinese point of view it is a symbol of a civilization which has lasted longer than any other on earth.

Into Peking at the beginning of the week marched Japanese troops. They met no resistance; long ago Peking had ceased to be the capital of republican China. Proclamations warned the population to be orderly and carried a tone of assumption that Peking henceforth will be Japanese because Japanese troops occupy it.

Walk softly, sons of Nippon. Many have thought Peking belonged to them until a century, or two or three, had proved that the city was master of its occupants, who were coming and going ages before Japan began to follow its vision of manifest destiny.

Napoleon once stood as a conqueror at the base of the pyramids, and the pyramids are still exactly as he found them.

Those Who Hunt for Gold.

The story of three prospectors that they found millions in gold bars in a lost Panama mine has been exploded as a hoax with political reactions to shake the Central American republic.

Men have hunted for gold ever since man developed a civilization which included water and commerce and ever in the trail of gold hunters has come a long line of adventuresome men whose work has yielded more wealth than ever was dug from the ground.

Conquistadors who dared the seas to rob the Incas of their gold brought civilization to the western hemisphere. The first started immigration to the west which built an empire. The rush to the Klondike first Americans with an interest in the north-west which turned Alaska from a white elephant into a valuable possession of the United States.

It Can't Happen Again.

If you haven't had a good laugh lately, get out the snapshots taken when the whole family went to Washington and met Calvin Coolidge in the White House. That strange looking person in the skirt which ends just above the knees and whose waistline strikes her about the same place is mama-in-case anyone is impolite enough to ask.

Mama was pretty funny in those days, maybe as funny as she ever will be. Style designers had done a lot of things to her, but never anything so cruel as to drop the waistline of her clothes to a point a few inches from the bottom hem, then to make the hem hit her at the knees.

She grinned and bore it. Her legs weren't the best, but they weren't the worst, either—not half so bad as that woman

Important Question Coming

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1937, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—For the first time a federal board is about to be confronted with the decision as to what is meant by "equal pay for equal work." The federal government cannot very well discriminate as between races or creeds, or between whites and negroes. The proposed legislation to fix minimum wages and maximum hours grants to a federal board discretionary powers. Industries will be asked for special exemptions, and businesses in one section of the country, such as the south, where cheaper labor is used, will be striving to get lower scales than northern competitors.

But will the federal government be able to ignore the rule that all American citizens must be treated alike? Will not a citizen be able to go into court and enjoin any decision of the federal board which discriminates against him on account of color or against a woman on account of sex?

For a long time a group of women leaders have been trying to get an amendment to the federal Constitution which would safeguard the rights of women in getting equal pay along with men. They have made considerable headway with law proposals and President Roosevelt favors it. Now, when one of his boards starts applying the rules, will he dare to permit a violation of the principle—no discrimination against women?

The allocation of jobs which is bound to result to some extent from the minimum wage and maximum hour legislation is likely to affect women more than men. There are many factories and business places where women get perhaps 50 per cent of the minimum of $16 is established, an employer may feel that a young man will be physically stronger and yield an output of product which would make up for the four dollars of increased expense.

Then there is the case of the persons of advanced age. Employers may feel that some jobs are worth $12, but when it comes to paying $16, they will want younger men. Dismissals by the hundreds of thousands may result.

Naturally, the relief rolls will have to take care of some of these persons displaced, but in the transition period, there will be hundreds of thousands who now have jobs and by their relatives to whom they will first go for support. It is true the law is supposed to grant equal opportunity to persons of advanced age who have some partial physical disability, which is supposed to make it possible for them to earn wages below the minimum fixed. But it will take much time to arrange all this and many employers will prefer, no doubt, to hire younger and more able-bodied persons.

The full economic benefit, namely increase in the national purchasing power, is questionable. Much of the so-called underprivileged labor, as on the farms and in rural districts generally, is not to receive the benefits of the law. So far, Roosevelt's cry about one-third of the population being ill-fed, ill-housed and ill-nourished will probably have to be repeated. Certainly the number of persons to be benefited by the act is relatively small, and the proposed legislation may also operate to increase the cost of living for many of the persons who now receive above the minimum scale.

There is also the problem of finding the money in the budget of marginal businesses so as to pay the minimum wages required by law and the increased expense of time and a half overtime where longer hours are necessary for special kinds of work in which interruptions are not feasible. Will employers feel that they cannot advance the wages of those above the minimum because they must use whatever margin they have available for payroll increases so as to meet the new expense caused by government intervention for the minimum clauses? That's what happened under the NRA in not a few businesses. It will happen again.

Whenever the people indifferently let the federal government fix their wages, their cost of living, and run through the whole economic structure the reckless hand of bureaucracy, there are bound to be repercussions. There are some observers here who think the proposed federal board will find the task so circumscribed by difficulties that it will take a year to get a single ruling, very much as the Walsh-Hesley act has thus far operated, or rather failed to operate, except in the most indirect way.

Certainly the federal power over minimum wages may, for a greater and greater intervention of government into the whole matter of wages and hours above the minimum. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has persuaded the house to give the unions some leverage in fixing minimum wage scales in conformity with collective bargaining agreements that exist in certain industries and in the public utility service. This alone puts an almost insuperable problem of administration and enforcement. But under the A. F. of L. which steadily doesn't like the legislation because it gives the government a chance to make labor unions superfluous, doesn't care if the proposed law proves unworkable. Maybe that's one way to sabotage it—to lead it down with amendments that will make it vulnerable from a constitutional as well as an economic standpoint.

German Manpower Below 1914

By HERBERT J. HESS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—Mobilized Germany during the next war can summon a service only 8,400,000 men, as compared to 13,250,000 called to the colors during the World War.

It is estimated that of that number only 6,500,000 in 1936-1937 will be available for strictly fighting purposes as compared to 10,000,000 that actually bore arms for Germany during the World War.

These figures, based on a close study of official statistics, are given in the "Military Weekly," a semi-official army organ devoted to military topics. The contention is that modern conditions in warfare such as super-mechanization of armies have reduced manpower available for actual fighting units in all countries with the result that future wars will not again see as many millions arrayed in battle against each other as was the case during the World War.

More Gold and Oil

By FRED BAILEY
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—American last year extracted more than $4,000,000,000 of oil and minerals from the earth, according to a preliminary figure compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Oil and gold production established new all-time records. Coal production was the highest level since 1920. Iron and steel output increased for the fourth successive year. Copper production increased 28 per cent over 1935.

The bureau estimated the total production of minerals in 1936, amounting to $4,000,000,000 as compared with $3,500,000,000 in 1935 and $2,600,000,000 in 1932, the low point of the financial depression. Production this year has been at an interestingly high level.

Employment in the mineral industries, which gives work to more than 1,000,000 persons directly and to several millions indirectly, has been steadily rising the bureau said. It added that the mining industry has contributed largely to the general recovery movement.

Oil Industry Recovers

"The complete recovery of the domestic petroleum industry is evidenced by the fact that the volume of both production and consumption in 1936, exceeded all previous records," the bureau said. "The trend of demand has been steadily upward since 1932 and as visible data for the early months of 1937 indicate that many new records will be established this year."

Total domestic demand for all oils (oil, kerosene, gasoline, etc.) in 1936 was 9,000,000 barrels in 1932 and then rose to 10,000,000 barrels in 1936, the bureau said. Exports increased from 100,000,000 barrels in 1932 to 1,000,000,000 barrels in 1936. The 1,000,000,000 barrels of crude petroleum produced last year were valued at $1,500,000,000.

Gold Output Rises

Stimulated by the increased price of gold, production last year was two-thirds larger than in 1932, the bureau said. In terms of dollars American gold mines had the largest production on record by a considerable margin. It was said.

Silver production, also influenced by the increased price, rose from 23,000,000 ounces in 1932 to more than 30,000,000 ounces in 1936, the bureau said. The mine output of copper last year was more than three times that of 1933.

down the street who, papa chuckled, had underpinning like a grand piano's.

When hemis were dropped, though, mama was grateful. A few years ago when they had hit bottom, started up again, then finally settled at a point well below the knee, but well above the ankle, she concluded that at last there was some sense in women's styles; they were more natural than they ever had been.

It will please her to know that the coming winter styles being shown in Paris are described as sensible and wearable, with no radical changes. Maybe it can't happen again, the silly extremists when taxed mama's patience and her figure so cruelly.

German Trade Policies

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The announcement, some three weeks ago, that the United States government had made a loan of $50,000,000 to Brazil, allegedly for purposes of exchange stabilization, was a startling thing to Wall Street economists. It would have been less startling if they had associated it with news which quickly followed.

Germany had canceled a deal whereby Germany was to purchase in Brazil 100,000 tons of coffee, to be paid for in blocked marks, and to be sold, not for German consumers but for resale to Central European countries. Now, on top of these items comes another, more extraordinary. The state department has asked congress quickly to authorize the loan to Brazil of six American destroyers, for the cost of the full marine insurance.

In recommending this measure, which, as far as I know is unprecedented, Mr. Hull merely states that "Brazil is concerned with recent tendencies in world politics and is apprehensive of the effects of some nations for raw materials and is seeking to build a modest navy of her own." He points out that Brazil is a vast territory with a relatively small population, and that "if the governments of other American countries find it necessary to turn to foreign governments for assistance... it is preferable that such assistance should be extended by the United States."

These items all add up to something, and what they add up to is that the state department and the navy are both greatly concerned about Germany's activities in Brazil. They are first of all concerned with Germany's trade policy, and secondly they are not sure that German activity will be limited to trying to capture the Brazilian market. In considering the possibilities of German colonial expansion, most Americans have always thought merely of the return of the African colonies. But it would appear that Brazil, and perhaps some other South American countries, fear that Germany may look elsewhere than to Africa. And the Monroe Doctrine, far from being dead, has been built out into a pan-American system of collective security.

The German trade policy is in direct opposition to the reciprocal trade agreements of Cordell Hull. Under Hull's policy the signatories to trade agreements contract to give and to receive the benefit of any trade concessions which they may give to other countries. The policy

Germany had canceled a deal whereby Germany was to purchase in Brazil 100,000 tons of coffee, to be paid for in blocked marks, and to be sold, not for German consumers but for resale to Central European countries. Now, on top of these items comes another, more extraordinary. The state department has asked congress quickly to authorize the loan to Brazil of six American destroyers, for the cost of the full marine insurance.

In recommending this measure, which, as far as I know is unprecedented, Mr. Hull merely states that "Brazil is concerned with recent tendencies in world politics and is apprehensive of the effects of some nations for raw materials and is seeking to build a modest navy of her own." He points out that Brazil is a vast territory with a relatively small population, and that "if the governments of other American countries find it necessary to turn to foreign governments for assistance... it is preferable that such assistance should be extended by the United States."

Legions Leave Dust Bowl

California Worried Over Influx of Thousands.

BY RONALD W. WAGONER
United Press Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—Between 300,000 and 400,000 migrants from the dust bowl and flood areas in the east, middle west and south constitute the most serious problem facing California. In the opinion of Harold W. Robertson, field secretary of the Gospel Army, a religious and welfare organization, that has made a study of the migrant and transient problem in the San Joaquin and Imperial valleys.

"Unless immediate measures are adopted to provide medical treatment and rehabilitation, also steps plan to stop this homeless horde from coming into California, by autumn this state will be facing the most serious health, moral, economic and sociological problem in its history," Robertson declared.

He said that the Gospel Army, which originally called attention to the seriousness of the situation, would refuse to listen to threats or intimidation from any group until the federal government and public agencies affected by the mena launched a comprehensive relief program to handle them.

"We can not assume the responsibility of feeding, clothing and housing a people because such a task is beyond the combined capacity of the private and welfare organizations," Robertson said.

County No. "Santa Clara" In support of Robertson's contention that the situation was too serious for the federal government to handle, the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county issued a statement recently that the county was "playing Santa Clara" to the homeless transients.

It notified other counties and states that Los Angeles county hereafter will turn a deaf ear to the relief pleas of transient, indigent, homeless people to work and earn their own living as best they can. Health officials in the northern counties of California reveal that many of the migrants have died from starvation and exposure and, according to the physicians, 60 per cent have been vaccinated for typhoid because of fear of an epidemic.

Robertson, in his survey, has had many a study of the transients and migrants are doing to rehabilitate themselves, their numbers, everyday life, their earnings per family, their illness and deaths, and what they are receiving either from the government or charity.

Following are his reports on the result of his trip to Northern and Southern California and his observations in Los Angeles valley. These refugees are mostly from the flood and dust bowl areas of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, with a scattering from Iowa and Oklahoma.

The majority of them came to California within the last seven months, and according to a statement recently received by the U. S. Reclamation Bureau, 15,000 are on the way. Few of the people have obtained employment. They are settled mostly in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys in Los Angeles county, and in the Imperial valley counties.

"A percentage of them come from the following states: Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, with a scattering from Iowa and Oklahoma."

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Aug. 11, 1927. Marion city council voted to support a proposed construction of a workhouse in Marion county. The project, as it was proposed by county officials, was a consequence of difficulties arising from the cost of keeping prisoners in workhouse detention.

John Abel, secretary of the A. O. U. Fraternal Order of Elks and also president of the local elks, was in Milwaukee, attending the order's annual convention.

A report completed by Auditor Earl E. Thomsen for that expenditure for the schools in Marion county for the year ended June 30, 1927, showed the $1,000,000. The total was $1,055,327, an increase of $55,327 over the preceding year.

Mrs. Ray Williams of Rockwell, Minn., entertained a company of children at her home in celebration of the sixth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Betty Jane.

Miss Irene Kraus was married at a bridge party at her home in South Greenwood street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Aug. 11, 1917. The west flooders, which were the scene of savage fighting, were in the night. Six times a day German planes were sent against the British line, and against the British machine guns.

American railways were used for the task of transporting 25,000 soldiers of the new national army between Sept. 1 and Sept. 15, 1917, during which period they were moved from 3,500 cities and towns to 16 cantonments for training.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. David Courtney of Sandusky, and Mr. and Mrs. George D. Noll and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drake of New Main street.

Prisoners at the county jail organized a kangaroo court for the purpose of assisting Sheriff J. W. Ullom in maintaining order in the jail, and in the meantime keeping the jail clean and the streets of the city.

Jacob Hecker, 64, of 12nd street, died at the home of his son, Mrs. John Wilhelm of 12th street.

HILL AND SMITH AGAIN HEAD PARTY TICKETS

stood at 423 for Hill, 30 for Mercer and 65 for Davis.

The victor carried 28 of the 20 precincts, losing only two to Mercer. They were Second ward, precinct E, and Third ward, precinct D. Davis won in no precinct.

In the contest for the Democratic council-at-large nomination, the three winners led after the first few precincts were in. Prior to that time Mr. Orr had a two-point lead over Mr. Leahy. Mr. Parish maintained a lead over the other four in the field throughout the race.

One of the closest contests was for one of the Republican nominations for council-at-large. Cahill was first in the four-man race from the first precinct, with Wilkins second for the first five precincts. Wilkins maintained third position and seemed assured of the one of the three nominations until the twenty-sixth precinct came in. Before it came in, Wilkins and Shuster were tied at 234 each, then Second ward, precinct D, reported 16 votes for Shuster and seven for Wilkins. From then on Shuster was ahead, winning by 11 votes, 412 to Wilkins' 405. Rogers ran second through the entire evening.

Ward Council Contests.

Other contests were all for council-at-large nominations. In the Third ward, Democratic, Williams took the first two precincts, A and B, and maintained his lead to the end. Farley won C and D and Shuster none.

One of the two women candidates, Mrs. Parr, lost out by two votes in the contest for the Democratic nomination for Fourth ward council. She led until the last precinct, 25 to 45, then D reported 18 for Flocken and nine for Mrs. Parr, bringing the total to 67 for Flocken and 65 for his opponent. Mrs. Parr won B and D and Mr. Flocken won A, C and E.

In the race for Republican Third ward council nomination, Dawson won four precincts and Owens none.

Complimentary votes to unopposed candidates follow: Republican, Frederick C. Smith, mayor, renominated, 236; R. C. Moore, president of council, re-nominated, 729; Sherman Haldeman, city treasurer, re-nominated, 725; Ralph E. Curran, city solicitor, re-nominated, 725; First ward council, W. P. Oats Jr., re-nominated, 141; Second ward council, Earle C. Johnson, 78; Fourth ward council, D. B. Higgett, re-nominated, 126; Fifth ward council, Urban F. Zachman, president councilman, 112; Sixth ward council, Robert F. Stief, re-nominated, 146; Democratic treasurer, Doyle Morgan 244; First ward council, William Gorauch, 215; Second ward council, Michael J. Pfeiffer, 207; Fifth ward council, Carl F. Ebert, 160; Sixth ward council, Mrs. Inez Eikenberry, 117.

Write-In Fall Short.

The name of Attorney Z. P. Davis was written in by 25 voters for the Democratic nomination for city solicitor, but the vote was not sufficient to nominate.

C. G. Ritzler, deputy clerk of the board of elections, said today a normal primary vote in Marion is 2,600, thus making yesterday's vote about 65 per cent of average. He said a normal municipal election here draws 2,600 persons to the polls. Yesterday's 2,626 would be 40 per cent of that figure. It was about 22 per cent of the municipal election vote two years ago this fall when 5,116 votes were cast.

The two parties then were virtually even. Of that total, 1,319 were Democratic and 4,567 Republican as represented by total votes for Mr. Hill and Dr. Smith for mayor at that time.

The Light Vote in 1927.

In 1927 when what is believed to have been the lightest primary vote in the city's history was cast, there were no contests for mayor and only three contests for council-at-large and two for the nominations for Fourth ward council in both parties. Republican numbers 582 and Democrats 417 then.

The second lightest vote was in 1925 with an unopposed Democratic candidate for mayor and three Republican candidates when 1,477 votes were cast. L. Tom Jones, unopposed on the Democratic ticket, received 373 votes and Emory M. Murphy won the Republican nomination with 820. His opponents were C. J. Nichols and Fred Haskell, who pulled 185 and 99 votes respectively. The vote was 100 per cent of the voters.

Incidentally, Ritzler last week predicted yesterday's vote almost exactly, placing it at 2,600. Yesterday, however, he changed his mind and said the vote probably would go below 2,000. It was 12 and a half per cent of the 1926 registered voters of the city.

As a result of the lightness of the vote, election officials who had laid out over 100 booths well into daylight, were ready to go home before 9 o'clock last night. The polls closed at 6:30 p. m. and the first precinct came in at 7:05. It was Fifth ward, precinct A, located at the city library. Election officials said the quickness of the return probably was exceeded by 1920 although no record was kept then. Last fall returns did not begin until about 11 p. m. and ended at about 8 a. m.

After the five precincts reported last night others followed in rapid order, all coming in by 8:30 and officials at the board offices finishing their tabulations at 8:55.

First to Finish.

The first ward to complete its returns was the sixth in the eastern part of the city at 7:26, one hour after the polls closed. The fifth ward in the north-central part of the city was complete at 7:35 and the fourth ward in the southwest district at 7:37. It was not until 8 o'clock that the next ward, the first, was completed. It included the north-central part of the city. The second ward in the northwest section finished its work at 8:05.

The last ward to come in was the third, located in the southwest part of the city, at 8:25. The last precinct was Third ward F located in the Oakland building at 8:10. Davis street.

The largest precinct vote was cast in Second ward, precinct D at the Golden Rule Coal Co. on Silver street with 91 Democrats and 22 Republicans for a total of 113. The smallest was in Fourth ward, precinct E at Spaulding garage at South Prospect street and Marion avenue, where 18 Democrats and 28 Republicans cast 46 votes.

Coincident with the lightness of the vote was a lack of interest in the election among voters. At The Star office where several telephones are usually ringing from 7 o'clock till midnight or later, two telephones received no more than a dozen calls.

Another unusual angle of the primary was that for the first time since 1905, the city auditor was not up for nomination. The state legislature at a recent session increased the term of office from two to four years. The office was created in 1901.

RIDGEMAN.—The Christian Advocate carried in the June 10 issue a poem, "Three Things I Love," written by M. LaAnna Brown, a Marion resident.

SENATORS APPROVE CROP LOAN MEASURE

Following announcement of the passage of the measure, Senator O'Connor, Democrat of New York, announced without explanation that a meeting of the committee had been called off.

There were strong indications the building was intended with at least a work-out some sort of settlement of the crop loan-fair legislation situation.

Wang Farm Bill Passed.

Some farm committee members have announced they would try to keep a wage and hour bill from the house floor until they had secured a farm bill would be enacted.

Following announcement of the passage of the measure, Senator O'Connor, Democrat of New York, announced without explanation that a meeting of the committee had been called off.

H. F. STALTER DIES AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star.

UPPER SANDUSKY, Aug. 11.—Hiram F. Stalter, 83, died at his home four miles south of here Tuesday at 5:30 a. m. following an illness of the last seven months from complications.

Mr. Stalter was united in marriage to Emma Shreve, who survives with six children. He was a native of Ohio and a member of the Methodist church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the home of George Stalter, son of Hiram Stalter, at Upper Sandusky. Burial will be in the cemetery at Upper Sandusky.

Aug. 27 was arranged for at a meeting of the lodge last night.

The outing will be an afternoon and evening affair with a picnic supper, and will be held at a grove at the farm home of Leo J. Cusick of south of Marion.

Entertainment last night consisted of a program of music by Dr. Carroll Ratchey, as read by J. P. Rabble.

Some legislators interpreted O'Connor's action as directly favorable to opposition within his committee to granting a special title sought by house leaders in being the wage-hour bill up for debate tomorrow.

There was no immediate indication how long the meeting would be delayed.

House leaders realized they faced a test of strength in the committee vote on getting the wage-hour bill to the floor immediately.

When O'Connor was questioned about the postponement, he declined to explain.

"The meeting was just called off," he said. "That's the complete story."

Asked when it would be held, O'Connor said he "had no idea."

Majority Leader Rayburn said the wage-hour bill faced a "tight squeeze" but expressed confidence it would be brought before the house this week.

Complicating the situation was comment from President Roosevelt which some legislators interpreted to mean a special session to act on farm legislation might be necessary.

When a reporter remarked yesterday that there would be no news if there was no control legislation by January, the chief executive replied he guessed that was right.

Chairman Johnson, Democrat of Oklahoma of the house Democratic steering committee said, however, it had been advised that if congress adopted a resolution to give a farm bill priority at the start of the 1935 congress, the President would go ahead with loans. Resolutions are pending in both senate and house.

The sugar bill won the approval of the senate finance committee yesterday after Chairman Harrison (D. Miss.) called the White House.
